OPEN HOUSE TONIGHT

GLENDALE'S RED CROSS CHAPTER TO ENTERTAIN MEMBERS AND FRIENDS

This evening (Thursday) the Glendale Chapter of the Red Cross is entertaining members and friends with what amounts to a "house warming," because it is the first time the public has been made welcome in this way to its new quarters and great preparations have been made to exhibit the work of the organization, to make members acquainted with each other and thus promote unity of sentiment and action, and to give a delightful evening's entertainment. A glance at the program will show what good things are in store and every member who is a patriot and who stands for the Red Cross, should come out and enjoy it. Workers will be there with knitting and sewing and all are welcome to bring any work on which they are engaged for the Red Cross. The program follows:

1. Introductory Remarks by A. L. Lawshe, Vice Chairman and Business Manager.
2. Mandolin and Piano Duet, Selection from "Il Trovatore" (Verdi) by Dr. and Mrs. H. N. Pfeiffer.
3. Piano solo (a) "Sonata" (Scarlatti) (b) "Sposalizio" (Liszt) by Miss Helene Morgan.
4. Vocal Solo, "Keep the Home Fires Burning," by Miss Margaret Lusby.
5. Recitation, "In Praise of Righteous War" (Walter Malone) by Miss Mary Young.
6. Remarks by Dr. Henry R. Harrower, Chairman of Entertainment.
7. Piano Solo, "Military March" (F. Schubert) by Robert Tower.

The piano has been generously furnished by Alfred M. Salyer of the Glendale Music Company.

VERY MUCH IN THE WAR

New comers in the city are Mrs. J. C. King and Mrs. John J. Ryan who have come to make their home with relatives, Mrs. Clarissa R. Pierce and Miss Ord of 120 Laurel avenue during the continuance of the war. Major J. C. King of the 79th Artillery, stationed at Houston, Texas, is now here for a few days with his wife and the relatives mentioned. He expects in common with other officers to be sent abroad but does not know when the summons will come.

Mrs. Ryan is the wife of Colonel John J. Ryan of the regular army who is at Camp Grant, Rockford, Illinois, and she is the mother of Major William Ord Ryan at the head of the school of aviation at Foggia, Italy. He is a graduate of the San Diego School of Aviation and has been in Europe since last August.

IRENE KELLY EVANS

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Irene Kelly Evans who was burned to death Tuesday in a canyon near Canyon Crest Sanitarium, will be held at the Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn Memorial Park, at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, the Pulliam Undertaking Company having charge. She formerly lived at Long Beach but for the past few months has been residing here, most of the time at Canyon Crest. Her brother, T. J. Kelly, resides at 1307½ Hawthorne street.

JUNIOR KNITTING BEE

A Junior Red Cross party was held at the home of Reba Phillips, 1424 West Colorado street, Wednesday afternoon which was attended by a section of the Sammies' Knitting Club of the Intermediate School. After a session of knitting which lasted about thirty minutes, luncheon was served and games were played. The prize winners were Leatha Colton and Stillman Chase. The guests were: Alice Farrow, Richard Ball, Helen Robinson, Richard Bement, Josephine Farnham, Stillman Chase, Louise Dair, Leatha Colton, Reba Phillips and their beloved teacher, Miss Clara Midcalf.

D. A. R. RECEPTION

Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker, Mrs. C. W. Houston, Mrs. T. W. Preston, Mrs. F. C. Leppelman were delegates from the General Gridley Chapter of the D. A. R., this city, to a large reception given to Daughters of the American Revolution by Mrs. Charles B. Boothe of 1515 Garfield avenue, South Pasadena, as a kind of social preliminary to the D. A. R. Convention which is being held this week in Hollywood, Thursday and Friday. Mrs. Boothe has a very beautiful home and the reception was largely attended by members of the various chapters in Southern California. Mrs. Houston will be the delegate and Mrs. Ocker her alternate at the convention in Hollywood.

DESIRABLE OPENINGS

LAST CHANCE FOR REGISTRANTS TO CHOOSE THEIR SERVICE

Men are needed in the 319th Engineers at Camp Fremont, and Chairman Lanterman of the Exemption Board states that it is a very desirable opening for any one who wants to get into the service because it gives an opportunity for men in about twenty different trades and callings, the pay ranging from $100 down. Men who apply to the Board can be sent by special induction.

Mr. Lanterman also said: "We are sending some men with special trades to Camp Dix, New Jersey. We also have an order for Signal Service boys to go to Fort Douglas, Salt Lake City. The Board is especially anxious to get as many boys as they can for the the 319th Engineers. Young men with a high school education that have any special bent for accounting and book-keeping are desired in the ordnance school at Berkeley. The schooling given the boys there is very thorough and consists of lots of hard work, but the training they receive will be of great benefit to them after the war is over.

"We are not going to recall the men for examinations, but the reports of physical examinations made by the physicians, where the registrant has been classed as physically fit for limited military service, or has been classed as unfit for any military service, will be gone over thoroughly by the physicians making the examination and the registrants will be re-classified in accordance with the latest instructions received from the Provost Marshal General, which are evidently intended to allow the passing of anybody who is physically qualified for any branch to be placed in service. In case of any doubt in the minds of the physicians as to whether a man can be of use to the government, the report will be sent to the Medical Advisory Board which Board will notify the registrant of the day he is to appear before it for examination. This Board is now located at the County Hospital under the Chairmanship of Dr. Granville McGowan. The Board is now awaiting new instructions which are promised it.

"All transfer cases heretofore sent to the Medical Advisory Board are taken care of by the local Exemption Board.

"The next general examination by this Board will take place February 19th, when some fifty registrants have been summoned to appear. This is the last call that will be given to registrants whose surnames begin with the letters preceding the letter K. If any of these registrants fail to appear on that date, they will be listed as delinquents and their names will be sent to the federal authorities to have them apprehended and brought before the Board.

"Calls will be forthcoming very soon for registrants whose surname initial is further down the alphabet.

"The Board intends to prosecute the work of closing up its books with great diligence, expecting to have all of its work done before the first of March next.

"It has no call for the mobilization of troops under the selective service, but is anxious to secure and forward all the volunteers it can to the camps which the volunteers select. As soon as a call is made under the selective service it is expected that this manner of mustering into the service will be abandoned, so any Class 1 man, who is liable to service under his physical examination has a chance now to make his selection of the branch in which he desires to enter.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Wednesday, February 13 was the 40th wedding anniversary of A. W. Jenkins and wife of 1427 West Third street and several friends of the worthy couple, fellow members of the Christian church, met with them for a noon dinner. They took eatables with them and spread three tables with good things. A few hours were thus very enjoyably spent. Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins were married in Lacon, Marshall County, Illinois, February 13, 1878. They went to housekeeping at once on the rich prairie farm they still own. They lived there until December, 1908, when they came to Glendale.

EMERGENCY CALL

Mrs. George D. Carter, chairman of knitting of the Glendale Red Cross has just received from San Francisco headquarters an urgent call for mufflers, helmets and socks and a few sweaters. Knitters take notice, please.

U. S. CONTROLS SHIPPING

GOVERNMENT RAILROAD ADMINISTRATION ASSUMES CHARGE OF COAST AND LAKE TRANSPORTATION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, February 14.—Control of all coastwise and lakewater shipping was assumed by the government railroad administration today. W. H. Pleasance was created manager of the marine section of the division of transportation under Director General McAdoo. He will have charge of all coastwise and lake traffic.

INVESTIGATING HOG ISLAND CHARGES

PRESIDENT AUTHORIZES ATTORNEY GENERAL TO ASSIST SHIPPING BOARD HEAD IN PROBE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, February 14.—President Wilson today asked Attorney General Gregory to co-operate with Chairman Hurley of the Shipping Board in investigating the charges that government money was used for private enterprises at the Hog Island navy yards.

ENERGETIC MEASURES TOWARD RUSSIA

POLISH CABINET RESIGNS

DISSATISFIED WITH TERMS OF PEACE AGREED UPON BY CENTRAL POWERS AND UKRAINE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

ZURICH, February 14.—Because of dissatisfaction with the terms of the separate peace concluded between Ukraine and the Central powers, the Polish cabinet has resigned, according to reports received here today.

FRENCH COMPLIMENTS U. S. SOLDIERS

AMERICAN ARTILLERY PLAYED SPECTACULAR PART IN FRENCH OFFENSIVE IN CHAMPAGNE DISTRICT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, February 14.—American batteries lent very effective support yesterday in the surprise attack by the French in the Champagne region, the French war office reported. The French last night penetrated the third line German defense southeast of Butte Mesnil.

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES AFIELD, February 14.—American artillery played a spectacular role in the big French attack in the Champagne region last night. The Yankee gunners with unerring accuracy laid down a barrage fire that cut off the German troops from their communication trenches and at the same time prevented the Boches from retiring or drawing reinforcements. Later American artillery protected the advancing French troops in establishing their new positions. The Americans were complimented officially by the French war office for their effective artillering.

LATEST TUSCANIA FIGURES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, February 14.—There are still 264 persons unaccounted for in the Tuscania list, according to official London cables today.

ENGLISH AVIATOR KILLED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

FORT WORTH, Texas, February 14.—Cadet Clifford Murray of the British Royal Flying corps was killed in a fall at Benbrook field this afternoon. He was the fourth aviator killed near here in the last two days. His home was in Worcester, England.

HENEY CONFIDENT OF NOMINATION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

CHICAGO, February 14.—Francis J. Heney having announced his candidacy for the nomination for governor of California, turned his attention toward putting his full strength into the race today. He is confident of winning the democratic nomination and is counting on the support of the progressive element in all parties.

SIR CECIL SPRING-RICE DEAD

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

OTTAWA, Canada, February 14.—Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, former British ambassador to the United States, died of heart failure here today.

"LIGHT" LAUDS CHURCH

MASONIC PAPER ENDORSES A GLENDALE MAN'S PLAN TO FINANCE WAR

Walt LeNoir Church, secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce is given much publicity in two recent numbers of "Light" a Masonic organ published in Louisville, Kentucky. In one issue "Light" publishes Mr. Church's plan for financing the war which he calls the Glendale plan. In the other his views of a Tripartite America (North, Central and South America co-operating for their own benefit and for the world) are given. "Light" says: "Brother Church is a man who has done things and his big idea has warm supporters in all three Americas. He organized the commercial agency of Snow, Church & Company in Cincinnati now known all over the world then went to Skagway, Alaska, where he was attorney for the White Pass railroad and the Canadian Bank of Commerce. He helped settle the boundary line between Alaska and Canada along the original Russian-England agreement. He was attorney for the first bank at Nome, Alaska and knew Rex Beach when the latter was putting current Alaskan history into his Spoilers. In 1901 he made New York his headquarters and is a member of the Bar associations of Missouri, Massachusetts, Colorado, Nevada and Alaska but has not practiced law since moving to California, where he is now Secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce."

HOSE THIEF ARRESTED

Filipe Cortez, of the Hawaiian Islands, was arrested by officers Olivas and Fryer at 4:15 a. m. Wednesday. He had a horse and wagon covered with tarpaulin and a big 32 calibre revolver in his boot. An unknown man out at that hour in the morning is always an object of suspicion and the officers challenged him. He said he was a milk man but when they looked under the tarpaulin instead of milk cans they found about 200 feet of practically new hose. Later in the day two complaints were lodged against him by owners who identified their hose and he was held under a bond of $200 to appear on Thursday at 2:30 o'clock.

A good many thefts of hose have been reported to the Department. The maximum punishment is a fine of $500 or imprisonment in the County Jail for a period of six months, or both, in the discretion of the Court.

FOR THE RED CROSS

Mrs. Frank Budway and her daughter, Mrs. E. Whittemore, of 1432 West Fifth street, were hostesses at a knitting chain party Tuesday afternoon which was greatly enjoyed by the ladies present, their guest list including Mrs. W. A. Tanner, Mrs. D. Ratt, Mrs. C. A. Redmond, Mrs. P. Moes, Mrs. Oliver, Mrs. C. L. Papineau. Cake and tea and coffee were served at the close of the afternoon.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR CONVENTION

The Glendale District Union, composed of the Christian Endeavor Societies of Glendale, Eagle Rock and Tropico, are planning a great convention for next Saturday and Sunday, February 16th and 17th at the Glendale Presbyterian Church, corner of Broadway and Cedar streets.

Anyone who has ever attended a Christian Endeavor banquet will not want to miss this one, Saturday night at 6:30 and if you have never attended one, get into this one and enjoy the good eats and royal good time.

Some of the best speakers of the county have been secured, such as Rev. Bruce Black, Pastoral Counsellor, Edgar Smith, County President, and many others.

A live young man from Occidental College will lead the sunrise meeting Sunday morning in Eagle Rock. Something will be doing every minute and every meeting will be worth while.

GLENDALE CITY UNION

The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. B. D. Snudden, 133 S. Jackson street, Friday afternon, February 15, at 2 p. m. The program will be "The Frances E. Willard Memorial," in charge of Miss Olive Marsh. Arrangements for "The Drive for War Service Funds" will be given. The members will please not forget to bring their annual dues. A full attendance is desired.

WEATHER FORECAST.—Probably showers tonight and Friday. Westerly winds.

LETTING DOWN BARS

IMMIGRATION OF CHINESE LABOR FOR PERIOD OF WAR, DEBATED AT HIGH SCHOOL

The second of the debates scheduled by the Southwestern Debating League of High Schools, takes place Friday at eight o'clock, at Union High, when the affirmative debaters of the Glendale team, Harlan Durand and Philip Wernette, will meet the negative speakers of the Santa Ana team, Messrs. Edmond West and David Smiley. The negative speakers of the Glendale team, Berna Martin and Frank Balthis, who last year won the $20 gold medal, will debate in Pasadena at the same time.

The question which these young men are to argue is one of considerable interest at this time, viz.

"Resolved, that the present Congress should enact legislation permitting the immigration of Chinese laborers to the United States for the period of the war (such laborers to be under a bond to return to China at the termination of the war.)"

The judges who will pass on the debate in Glendale are: Professor Shedd of Occidental, Professor McMatt of the University of Southern California and a professor from the Whittier College whose name has not been secured.

Music will be furnished by the High School Band. Admission will be free and a cordial welcome is given the public to come and hear the debate. The boys have worked hard to prepare for this contest and they should be encouraged and supported by their friends at home. The auditorium at the High School should be packed for this event.

MRS. WILLISFORD RETURNS

Mrs. E. H. Willisford and her little daughter Joy, arrived in Glendale Wednesday noon and will be here until Sunday evening as guests of Mrs. A. H. Chapman of 1535 West Third street.

The afternoon was spent at Red Cross headquarters working and visiting with ladies of the Congregational Church who were there in the Sewing Section. Mrs. Willisford and Joy are to be entertained Thursday evening by Mrs. A. L. Weaver at dinner, and the day following at the P. E. O. meeting at the home of Mrs. Eva Cunningham at 330 Orange street. Friday night they will be dinner guests of Mrs. Kennedy, 1530 Sycamore avenue. They will also be guests at a Knitting Chain party which Mrs. Chapman, their hostess is giving.

Mrs. Willisford has heard nothing from her husband since she received the message announcing his safe arrival. She expects a letter inside of a week and will advise her friends of its contents through the columns of this paper when the letter reaches her.

FOR FATHER

A very fine program has been secured for Father's Night, which is to be celebrated by the Parent-Teacher Association of the Columbus Avenue School next week Thursday, February 21st, the eve of Washington's Birthday.

It will take place at the beautiful home of Mrs. J. R. White, at First and Orange streets, at 8 o'clock, and will be patriotic in character. The chief speaker will be Dr. Knowles, who has had charge of an Ambulance Corps Hospital on the Western front, who has but recently returned from Russia, and who knows conditions there very thoroughly. Everybody will be welcome but "father" in particular. This is his chance and he should improve it.

CHANGE IN BUSINESS

Payne & Moode who have been actively engaged in the retail grocery business at 415 South Brand boulevard, have sold their stock of groceries to Mr. Christie of Downey, California, possession to be given at the close of this week. Messrs. Payne & Moode are the owners of a store at Avalon and they will likely turn their attention entirely to the business at that place from now on. Mr. Christie will be assisted in the business by his son who has had unlimited experience in the mercantile business.

HILEMAN PROMOTED

Carl Hileman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. C. Hileman of this city, has just been made head of the Pacific Electric office at Artesia, and moves from Glendale, where he has been assistant agent for nearly a year, to his new post this week. Carl commenced with the P. E. at Monrovia, working as assistant to Agent H. H. Demarest for nearly four years.—Monrovia News.

SLAVS NOT MYSTERIOUS

I used to see a good deal of a Swede in Petrograd who lived with his Russian wife in a little inside tenement over the Viborg quarter and wrote long and very erudite articles in microscopic long hand for a Stockholm socialist paper. A social democrat himself, in the bewildering shifting of political values he had become almost conservative. Realism was his strong point, and he never tired of smiling satirically at western attempts to explain the mysterious Russian—especially attempts after the manner of Stephen Graham, always so much more Russian than the Russian themselves.

"'Mysterious, mysticism, a separate destiny for the Slavs,'" he would quote sardonically. "All foolishness! There's nothing mysterious about Russians—it's merely four centuries' difference in civilization—that's all."

There was something, at least, in what he said. Tolstoy's nonresistance and his final renunciation of everything to go out into the winter night to meet his God; there was something of race in this and not mere personal idiosyncracy—something more in the air of half oriental land than it is in ours. Yet westerners often do forget, when considering Russia, that its vast uneducated majority are closer perhaps to the material life, the superstitions and prejudices of the sixteenth century than to our own. When Shakespeare, borrowing for his Roman mobs the crowds he saw about him in Elizabethan London, described their lice and loutishness, and how they threw their "greasy caps in the air," he was looking at a person very much the same in point of historical development as the Russian peasant of 1917.

All these things must be remembered in picturing day to day conditions in Moscow or Petrograd. An officer at the front or an unpopular landowner in some remote country house literally doesn't know what may happen to him before morning. But for most people life goes on amazingly the same. Children go to school, postmen deliver letters, the theater and opera run on as usual, and people sit about their samovars talking until all hours in the genial Russian fashion.

You must not imagine Petrograd in terms of stage pictures of Paris during the terror, or imagine that the tovarishi carry on a revolution as it might be carried on in Liverpool or Manchester or Pittsburgh or Chicago.—Arthur Rhul in Collier's Weekly.

JOBS FOR THE JOBLESS

In line with national Red Cross policy, Marshal Hale, manager of the Pacific Division, has made the following appeal to all Red Cross workers to support the government's shipping program:

"Not only does the supplying of our armies and allies with war materials and the consequent winning of the war depend upon shipping facilities but the effectiveness of Red Cross work depends largely upon the carrying out of the shipping program of the government. Necessary shipyards and materials for construction and funds to carry on work have already been provided by the government.

"All that is lacking is the enlistment of sufficient skilled labor and a knowledge of needs such as to increase a spirit in the nation that will insure ships being built at once. To provide necessary labor, the shipping board in co-operation with the public service reserve is enrolling 250,000 men for service in shipyards. It is understood that these men are not to be called to the shipyards at once, but will be personally notified when wanted.

"These men are being enrolled by the government under the name of United States shipyard volunteers. American Red Cross is vitally interested in increasing shipping facilities.

"All Red Cross chapters should support the government shipping program."

REFORMERS

There is a place in the world for reformers. Reformers are the gentlemen who created our great Declaration of Independence, and the Constitution of the United States. Bless them, we say. At the same time there should be more positive reformers and fewer negative reformers, the latter being well meaning persons who are always against something and not for anything.—Atchison Globe.

Postmaster-General Burleson has been striving to explain why it takes months for a letter from the United States to reach its destination in the ranks of the American expeditionary force in France, and accounts for the delay partly by saying that the troops are constantly shifting their positions. This, however, does not prevent them from getting their regular rations, nor does it explain why it takes about as long to hear from an American soldier at the front as for a letter to reach him, although his friends at home are not, as a rule, constantly shifting their positions.—C. S. Monitor.

MONTHLY MEETING

There was a variation in the regular monthly meeting of teachers and officers of the Tropico Presbyterian Sunday School which was held Tuesday evening in the church parlors. Officers and teachers of the Tropico Methodist Sunday School and Pastor Cory were invited to be their guests at a supper served at 6:30 p. m. which, though it patriotically conformed to the mandates of Mr. Hoover was nevertheless very appetizing and satisfying.

Following the supper Merrit Ludden, assistant superintendent, took charge of the program and called upon Mr. Cory and upon Mr. Rider for remarks, to which they responded with talks which were inspiring and appropos. Mrs. Good of Los Angeles, was then introduced as the chief speaker of the evening. She is at present confining her energies to the Sunday School work of the Main Street Methodist Church, but has in the past had charge of the Second Division work for the County.

Her general theme was "Efficiency in the Sunday School and how to attain it." It was presented under five heads which she wrote upon the blackboard as follows:

Surroundings,
Teachers,
Officers,
System,
Results,
How to be attained.

She considers that the first great thing in securing efficiency in the Sunday School is a trained superintendent, and the second thing, trained teachers. Thirty-three officers and teachers were present and it was a very helpful meeting.

"Was I full when you saw me last night?"

"I wouldn't like to say that."

"Come on. What was I doing?"

"Well, you were challenging a lamp post for a race."

PARKERETTES

A very Cross town is reported in Lee County, Illinois, wherein every man, woman and child above six years of age are recorded members of the town Red Cross society. This is tending toward the condition suggested by this writer a short time since that the membership of the Red Cross society should be identical with the population.

It never will be known with any degree of accuracy beyond a guess how terrible was the slaughter of birds and water fowl by the severity of the winter just closing. More of earth surface was covered by snow of greater depth and for a longer time than ever before known, making it impossible for the broods to obtain food. This means death to the birds, and water fowl perished also to a considerable extent.

After observing an annual feast for 121 consecutive years, the Easton, Pa., Home Fire Insurance Company cut the function out this year in sympathy with the spirit of economy and conservation of foodstuffs demand on all hands. While commending this action as eminently worthy and patriotic, and worthy of imitation, it gives opportunity to remark that the vast amount of junketing, feasting, banqueting, high jinks, hilarity, frolic and fun going on all around us is not in keeping with the earnestness of the situation.

A beloved niece of mine living in Illinois, a long-time school teacher and a "reader" of much ability, is doing her "bit" in this line in several Red Cross meetings, selecting for her numbers on the programs from the writings of her uncle living in Glendale, California. This may smack of favoritism on her part in the articles used. Be that as it may, the meetings were very successful financially, as the local chapters attest.

Women serving on juries of any kind in any court should now be accepted as a fixed fact, just as any other duty that belongs to the citizen, and the woman not subscribing to this never should have been heard shrieking for the franchise. All juries should be mixed. No judge should permit a jury all women or all men if asked for, any more than one all lawyers or all brewers or all prohibitionists. On its face such a panel is illegal, being class. Citizenship and common sense are not determined by sex.

These are not healthy times for the promotion of rowdyism, be it joyriding or fun at a wedding to which you were not invited. To invade the sacred precincts of a home for the purpose of an old "charivari" makes you an outlaw and at the mercy of the owner, whom neither judge nor jury would harm for defending his premises. I read without sympathy of a case wherein an "invader" got off easy by paying a surgeon for dressing the wound he received in the raid on his neighbor's premises.

By agreeing to a single ticket for expressing the prohibition sentiment of the dry voters of the state at the fall election, the recent dry convention was wise in this. That method guarantees the success of the measure if success is to come at all this fall. But a double-headed or split ticket in any way would have been a sign of defeat at the start, now happily avoided by the unit action.

The tendency to put the whole world in the "giggle and grin" column is being overdone, especially in these serious times. Dr. Longfellow, pretty good authority, gave us a short but pungent sermon in a single line. "Life is real; life is earnest." Good nature is in order all the time, and a little nonsense at times is wholesome, but the never-ending guffaw is as meaningless as the Chinese grin.

"That was a powerful appeal our pastor made Sunday evening for patriotism and conservative living—clean, upright lives for the citizen as the surest way to those high ideals we may have for society and government. It seemed to impress the audience, including yourself." "You're off, there. All that fine talk was for the other fellow."

Every little while some member of Congress arises to move that this or that composition be declared the "Official National Anthem." Not yet. The nation is too young and just now too busy making history to worry over a national anthem. Meantime give reach and scope to good old "America."

And now certain hotel proprietors are laying awake nights wondering how they are to care for the army of tourists soon to invade the southland, said to be the greatest ever. We are pleased to see among the names of these overworked hotel and cafe keepers the same names to some extent who very recently were shouting themselves hoarse declaring that dry state and city action would destroy the tourist, hotel, rooming house, cafe business entirely. We have a feeling of regret that these croakers are prospering by their prophesied calamities.

KNITTING CHAIN

A delightful knitting chain party was held at the home of Mrs. S. J. Fish, 200 South Louise street, Wednesday afternoon. The ladies brought their Red Cross work and spent the afternoon with work and social chatter and had a most enjoyable time. The guest list included: Mesdames Bob Walton, J. Walton, Miss Maitland, Mrs. Fanset, Mrs. V. Price Brown, Mrs. Hewett, Mrs. Sawyer, Mrs. Hackett, Mrs. Pickering, Mrs. C. W. Ingledue and Mrs. Fish.

Delicious refreshments were served with due regard for "Wheatless Day."

PARAPHRASE

"I thought she exhibited verve and aplomb," said Mrs. Oldcastle. "Did you?" replied her hostess. "Josiah said she had nerve, but was a peach."—Chicago Herald.

CAUSE AND EFFECT

"This war has changed nearly everything," remarked Mr. Dubwaite.

"No doubt," said Mrs. Dubwaite, looking wise.

"I ordered a Spanish omelette in a restaurant the other day. They are not what they used to be."

"I'm not surprised to hear that. I was reading in a newspaper only this morning that Spain had been hard hit by the war."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

VALENTINE SUPPER

A pretty affair is slated for Thursday evening in which valentines figure conspicuously in decorations and entertainment. It is being given by Mrs. Carlton Padelford, at her home, 326 Louise street. War suggestions will not be absent entirely as several of the guests are from Camp Kearny, but the arts of peace will be cultivated especially music and light conversation which will occupy the evening, at the close of which a supper will be served. The guest list includes: Privates Carlton Padelford, Grant Clayton and Sergeant A. Lewis of Company 9, Coast Artillery, Mrs. B. Wilson, Miss Ruth Wilson and Miss Ruth Evans of Pasadena.

Personals

Dr. C. Irving Mills has been quite ill but is recuperating rapidly.

The Woman's Auxiliary of St. Mark's Episcopal Church will meet Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Mrs. Porter of Casa Verdugo.

Mrs. C. J. Walton of 1562 Riverdale Drive, entertains at luncheon Thursday, Mrs. C. L. Wrenn and Mrs. L. Wolf of Los Angeles, and Mrs. C. A. Redmond of Glendale.

At the close of the business meeting of Glen Eyrie Chapter, O. E. S., this evening the members and their guests will enjoy a social program planned by Mrs. Sally C. Braden and her committee.

Miss Ellen B. Churchill and Miss Minnie Moulton of Blanche avenue who have been spending a week in San Diego, returned Tuesday evening. While there they attended a bench show and entered a dog.

W. H. Spink and his son Harry of Columbus avenue, are home on a furlough from Camp Kearny and will remain until Sunday evening, visiting with relatives and friends. They are both in Battery A of the Coast Artillery.

Mrs. Albert R. Chappell of 1457 Myrtle street is anticipating a visit from her mother who plans to leave her home in Fort Collins, Colorado next Tuesday, and who will spend the balance of the winter here with her daughter.

Do not forget the free lecture Saturday evening at the High School Auditorium. The story of the people who live in comfort on two hours a day labor. Who have no money and no desire for any.

MRS. ROBINSON.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Walton who have been residents of St. Andrews Place, Los Angeles, last week became citizens of Glendale and are now living at 1562 Riverdale Drive. Mr. Walton is in the Disbursement Department of the Salt Lake Railroad.

Mrs. Thomas Meagher of Tenth street, and Mrs. P. Warren of Los Angeles, attended the Wisconsin Society picnic held at Sycamore Grove Tuesday. They report a splendid good time in seeing old schoolmates and friends. Over five thousand members of the Wisconsin Association were present.

Miss Isabel Franklin, of 1498 West Third street, is giving a Red Cross party for twelve of her school friends Friday afternoon. The first half hour will be spent in knitting. After that games will be played and refreshments will be served. Each child will contribute 10 cents to the Junior Red Cross fund.

The fifteenth annual picnic of the North Dakota Association of Southern California will come off Saturday, February 16th, at Sycamore Grove. Prominent speakers will deliver short addresses. Coffee will be served from 12 to 1:30 to all wearing the association badge. In the event of rain it will be postponed until Saturday, February 23d.

S. Berman and several other loyal members of the Twin City Lodge, Knights of Pythias, motored to Los Angeles Tuesday and participated in the big auto parade arranged to advertise the great ball and entertainment which will be given by the Knights of Pythias at Shrine Auditorium Thursday evening for the benefit of the Red Cross. It promises to be one of the largest and most spectacular affairs which has ever been given in the Angel City, as the officers of the various lodges who will be in the grand march will be in their full regalia. Local Red Cross Chapters will receive their proportions of returns from tickets sold to residents of the cities in which the chapters are located. The attendance promises to be very large and the Glendale Chapter hopes to receive a goodly addition to its funds.

VALENTINE PARTY

The little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Chambers, Portia and Frances, are giving a party today, Thursday at their home, 860 South Glendale avenue, to twenty-nine little girls. The guest of honor is little Valentine Fisher, their cousin, and it is a celebration of her birthday. Other guests are: Mildred Randolph, Mabel Reed, Margery and Emma Reed, Katherine Guthrie, Lavinia Hutt, Georgia Allen, Martha Blanchard, Pansy Blanchard, Katherine Doll, Katherine Delgardo, Laura Moyse, Betsy Butterfield, Jane Butterfield, Thelma Barker, Vivian May, Lois Naudain, Katherine Horne, Eloise Truett, Narcisse Truett, Vera Zimmerman, Gladys Zimmerman, Jane Lynch, Margery Hart.

Two tables have been spread for the little folks gay with red hearts and cupids and after the party refreshments have been consumed the small girls will enjoy a "Heart Hunt" and the contents of a valentine box which will be distributed.

S. K. C.

Several weks ago, the A 7th class of the Intermediate School decided that every member should be a knitter. Those knowing the art set to work to teach the others and soon every boy and girl, forty in all, could be seen with needles and yarn, working for Uncle Sam. Some of the boys made their own needles under Mr. Harkness' direction, in the manual training work. Knowing how to knit, they decided upon the name "Sammies Knitting Club." They have already knitted squares for two soldier blankets and presented them to the Red Cross Chapter. The third blanket is being made now. These boys and girls have furnished all the yarn used, buying some, begging odds and ends from friends and neighbors, and searching through old trunks and garrets for old sweaters, shawls, etc., which have been unravelled and knitted into squares and some into "cootie strings." These strings have been sent direct to the Sammies in France, and one soldier boy wrote back, "They sure come in handy."

To raise their Junior Red Cross money, this "Sammies Knitting Club" is giving a number of knitting parties just like grown-up folks. The first was held at the home of Kathleen Campbell in North Glendale. Last week Harold Betz entertained the boys and they did not leave their knitting needles at home either. Saturday afternoon, eight girls met with Marion Farrand, Wednesday Reba Phillips entertained both boys and girls. Friday and Saturday Isabel Franklin and Ruth will be hostesses to other members. Miss Clara Midcalf is class teacher of the A 7th's and she is very proud of her patriotic club of knitters.

VALENTINE DANCE A SUCCESS

The Valentine Dance and Card Party of the British Ambulance Society of Glendale which took place last Saturday evening at Masonic Temple was a notable event and a decided success in every way. A large number of guests were present and the ball room and card tables were filled.

The hall was artistically decorated with festoons of red cardboard hearts and the flags of the Allies. On the stage were handsome potted plants and ferns loaned by Mr. Freeman Kelley.

The president of the Society, Mrs. Frank England, headed the reception committee, assisted by Mrs. Hornsey, Mrs. Pack, Mrs. Bannock and Miss Whitaker. Dancing was in charge of Messrs. England and Bannock, assisted by Mr. Vincente Salmacia, who proved an able Master of Ceremonies.

Mrs. George Mitchell and Mrs. Arthur Campbell presided over the punch table and Mrs. Hornsey assisted Mrs. Pulliam, who had charge of the Card Room where Five Hundred and Bridge were played. Prizes were won as follows: Mrs. Wheatman, the handsome aluminum kettle given by Ezra Parker; Mrs. Hopkins, the dainty guest towel given by the Irish linen store; Mr. Ralston from Wyoming, who is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Mitchell, won the necktie given by the H. S. Webb store; and Mr. Douglas the beautiful scarf pin from Walker's Jewelry Store.

An interesting event was the awarding of the Allies Flag Pin made in Glendale at the time of the Allies' Fiesta. George Mitchell had the lucky winning number which was drawn by little Miss Naudain and announced by Mr. Salmacia. Half the net proceeds of this pin go to the Y. M. C. A. war work at Camp Kearny as a gift from the Glendale Branch.

Several pretty exhibition dances were given, the Chinese Toddle by two dainty little children, the Toy Shop Dance by Lois Naudain, a most beautiful aesthetic dance by Miss Esther Ralston.

A pretty feature was the valentine dance at the close of the evening when each man was presented with a cardboard heart which was pinned on his sleeve by pretty girls headed by Miss Ralston.

Frank England and George Bannock were in charge at the door and took in many tickets and a large sum of money. The net proceeds of the evening to date are in the neighborhood of $50 and more donations are coming. The society wishes to extend its thanks to all who helped to make this affair the success it was. The Society is to be congratulated on this initial dance which is but the fore-runner of others.

FOUNDER'S DAY RECEPTION

Monday evening, February 18th, the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations will celebrate Founders' Day with a reception for Dr. Jessie Russell, President of the California State Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations. The reception will take place in the auditorium of the Union High School at 8 o'clock, and the Federation extends a cordial welcome to the parents and friends of every child in the Glendale schools. A fine program is being arranged by the committee and refreshments will be served.

NOTICE B. I. L.'s

The B. I. L. party which was to have been given by Chapter L, P. E. O. at the home of Mrs. Brown, Friday evening will be held at the home of Mrs. Ramsay, 439 S. Adams street instead on account of the illness of Mrs. Brown.

RED CROSS NOTES

Twenty-five or thirty ladies of the Congregational Church were at Red Cross headquarters Wednesday. They did splendid work which was considerably diversified. Some strung buttons, some did cutting, others made buttonholes, and still others made bed shirts.

As it will not be possible for Mrs. A. S. Chase to superintend the packing of shipments Friday, the work will not be undertaken until Saturday or Monday. As the meeting tonight (Thursday) will be the first open evening meeting at headquarters, officials thought it would be well to delay shipments that visitors might have an opportunity to see the work which the Chapter is doing.

Thursday is the regular sewing day at headquarters, and it is also one of the days on which the Knitting Section is open.

Mrs. Cleveland, assisted by Mrs. Bullard, was instructress in the Surgical Dresisngs Department Wednesday. The full list of workers who cut 200 yards of gauze and made 803 8x4 compresses, was: Mesdames A. L. Lawshe, W. A. Reynolds, C. L. Peckham, Carson Taylor, A. W. Beach, C. C. Dorrance, W. W. Stamps, Archie Parker, Willis W. Kimball, A. R. Hildreth, Edward Malley, William Brinkman, Edgar W. Pack, Evelyn Andrews, C. L. Bullard, H. M. Oswald, George T. Paine, Roy G. Graham, I. A. Flint, J. F. Lilly, Mrs. W. R. Cleveland, and Misses Elizabeth Chandler, Maude Cunningham, Harriet M. Nichols.

Under orders received from the Pacific Division in San Francisco, the making of all required refugee garments will be taken over by the Junior Red Cross, but the garments they prepare will be shipped by the Glendale Chapter in the usual way. The chapter is also advised that Comfort Kits are needed in large quantities.

ACACIA STREET CLUB

The Mothers' club of the Acacia Street school will hold their regular meeting Friday afternoon at the school.

LA CANADA

Tuesday found all-day workers at the Red Cross workrooms as usual and a large attendance in the afternoon working on gauze dressings and on hospital shirts. A few women work on Friday also.

The chairman of the war knitters is Mrs. Jas. Penfield. She has six squads of workers there being eight knitters in a squad, and it is really remarkable the amount of knitting turned in. Two squads of young girls are making sweaters, mufflers and so forth. There are seventeen of the Junior Red Cross boys and girls who are knitting squares for afghans. An S. O. S. call has gone out for wool, any left overs of any kind or of any color, of any quantity, please bring or send to the school house. The scarcity of wool is the reason for the appeal.

A Junior Red Cross conference was held in Los Angeles on February 5th, at which different Red Cross heads of state and local prominence gathered to plan for a Junior Red Cross membership drive. Mrs. Harry A. Kluegel of Pacific Division headquarters at San Francisco was present and united with Dr. Shiels, superintendent of Los Angeles schools and Mark Keppel, county superintendent of schools and other interested workers to promote the campaign. All the Pasadena city schools have their organizations and the wish is to have a 100 per cent membership in all schools in contiguous localities. It is mostly an accomplished fact in La Canada schools. Miss Hausam's pupils have earned their own membership fees. Miss Horn's scholars are attempting to do the same, but they are pretty small. However, don't forget that some of them are on the list to do odd jobs for any one who can use small helpers.

The Missionary Society will hold its regular monthly meeting Wednesday February 20th, at the home of Mrs. P. H. Johnson. All ladies of the Valley are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Mrs. Edwin Cooper motored to Camp Kearny with her friends the McCoys of Glendale last Saturday. Saturday was Mary Pickford day at the camp, but Mrs. Cooper didn't happen to see Mary.

Our village blacksmith, J. Huntington, has a new car, a Saxon.

Charles Olson owns a Chevrolet.

H. L. Hayman's team ran away, overturning the wagon and injuring the driver. Mrs. Howard extended first aid to the man who proved to be not seriously hurt.

Ted Guidinger does not allow any of his old friends to get ahead of him. Ted has saved thrift stamps and has now a War Savings Certificate.

If you need a puncture proof tube for your car which is guaranteed for 5000 miles you can buy a Simplex at Anderson's garage, a poster in the window informs you.

Miss Dorothy Lester is not able to be at her usual post.

At the Improvement Association meeting held February 9, Fenton Knight was elected president vice E. H. Brooks who resigned after four and a half years of faithful and efficient service. A prominent characteristic of Mr. Brooks' is optimism which with many other brilliant qualities made him a most excellent president. His resignation was unanimously deplored.

D. J. Green returned Saturday from his eastern trip. Most of his time was spent with his old Iowa friends, with whom he exchanged warm greetings though the weather was cold, 18 to 20 degrees below zero most of the time.

Mrs. Mary Swift a sister of D. J. Green who lives on Orange Grove avenue, Pasadena, came home from her Iowa visit to find her kitchen unroofed and a beautiful magnolia tree 30 years old broken off by the cyclone which devastated a portion of Pasadena.

Mr. McNaughton is building a paved roadway from his garage on the State Highway up to the house which is to serve both his place and Dr. Ebersole's.

Flintridge stage broke down Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Hegerman, Mr. and Mrs. Layman and Miss Layman of Van Nuys visited in the Valley on Sunday.

Sam Durand dislocated a bone in his right hand when the crank on his car broke. He has a fine left hand though.

La Canada was represented in the annual clay court tennis tournament held at Hotel Leighton in Los Angeles beginning Saturday of last week. The proceeds are devoted to the Red Cross.

La Canada post master take notice. A P. M. of Nebraska and his son John only 14 years old, made nine sweaters for the Red Cross in January.

We had War bread, we have now Victory bread. How do you like the latter? We have bran, rye, oatmeal and other Liberty breads. Use rye flour for pastry for all kinds of pies. By making use of the above-mentioned cereals and flours we release the much needed wheat for our soldiers.

A. M. Guidinger of San Fernando, made a very generous contribution of old linen to the Red Cross for use in wrapping gauze dressings.

Miss Josephine Leoni of Craig avenue, reports that they are entertaining a visitor, a truly beautiful Collie dog who has presented himself for adoption. The owner may have him by proving claim to him.

Astonishing prices are being paid for copper and nickel coins by the Germans, says a cable from Holland. $1.50 is given for 100 Dutch cents (40 cents), and $5.00 for 100 nickel 5 cent pieces ($2). Germany can no longer get cork and is an eager purchaser of used corks at high prices.

On February 6th, Hotel Huntington of Pasadena, opened a school for its children guests. Kindergarten and primary work will be taught as well as courses in agriculture, domestic science and manual training. Boy Scout and Red Cross will be taught. This is quite an innovation. The school will be kept up by the hotel, no public school being nearer than two miles.

Capt. C. A. Smalley of the Medical Corps is at home again after an absence at Camp for five months.

The garage of Walter M. Murphy of La Canada boulevard, caught fire Monday morning of this week. The fire was put out only after one end was considerably damaged. One of the men was partly overcome by smoke while chopping away boards to break the course of the flames. The loss is covered by insurance.

TUJUNGA

The Red Cross Auxiliary held a very interesting meeting last Friday. The underwear and all but one bathrobe were finished and a layette well under way. By way of diversion in the afternoon, Mrs. Woodruff spoke on Government Ownership of Railroads and their lack of efficiency at the present time. Mrs. Wieman spoke of the broadening out of woman in the home and the need of knowledge of the world's work in all branches. This was followed by reading some extracts from "The Sword of Jesus" by Harold Bell Wright from the February American. Those who have not read the article should do so as it is a view of the war subject from the spiritual side. The new service flag was on display with fifteen stars, and there are three new ones to be added. The next meeting will be held on Friday and it is hoped that every woman of Tujunga will be present, and if she has a machine will lend it for the day.

Ed Forester went to Long Beach Monday to call on Charles Warren and Ben Clark, who are working in the ship yards.

Mr. and Mrs. McNab were callers in Tujunga last Sunday.

Mrs. Slavinsky and children left Friday for a sojourn with her husband near Cucamonga. She expects to be gone several months.

Mr. Leckin was in Los Angeles the first of the week.

Mrs. Pierce has rented Miss Avery's cottage on Sunset boulevard.

The Ladies Aid held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. W. H. Wieman on Thursday afternoon.

Miss Margaret Forest is at home with an attack of the mumps, following her mother's example. With them are Charles Lang and Alice Smellie.

Mrs. A. T. Whitman is in San Pedro for a visit, with Mrs. Fern London.

Charles Jones who has been a resident of the valley the past year, moved away on Tuesday. We understand his headquarters will be at Altadena.

A sharp white frost was apparent in this vicinity on Tuesday morning.

The Misses Haggarty of Long Beach were at their home here on Tuesday.

Mrs. Batchelder is visiting in Los Angeles for the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ensign Woodruff attended the Wisconsin picnic at Long Beach on Tuesday.

The road man was in Tujunga looking over the roads preparatory to putting them in good shape. The red clay from Phil Begue's pit will be used on the roads for it has proven to be as hard as cement wherever it has been used. Now the call is for rain to speed the work, and it is up to our forecaster to provide it.

The Misses Reed and their mother took Miss Benedict, Mrs. Ludke and Mrs. Dean to Pasadena, last week to return and bring out both sewing and yarn for knitting. They had the pleasure of listening to Mr. Wishard in the R. C. assembly rooms, on the Dangers to America of the Present War. Mr. Wishard is surely in earnest in his desire to awaken us to our peril, but like the people of Noah's day, we see the clouds gathering but do not realize what they portend.

As a community we shall regret the passing of John T. Ward. He and his wife were of our first pioneers, coming here from the San Fernando Valley. Mr. Ward served as one of the directors of the store, resigning less than a year ago; he was also one of the directors of the Board of Trade, and always active in public affairs. His cheery smile we shall miss as the years go by, but all who came here with him will hold him in sweet memory.

Whenever your correspondent fails to get the notices in, it is not the fault of the writer, but the fault of the transmission. Mistakes will happen to the best of us, and we hope to be excused this time and every other time it happens. Believe me I feel worse about it than anyone else can.

INSECT ENEMIES OF THE HOME VEGETABLE GARDEN

By F. H. CHITTENDEN

(Entomologist in Charge of Truck Crop Insect Investigations, Bureau of Entomology. U. S. D. A.)

From the time the seeds of the garden crops are put into the ground until the time the crops are harvested, a succession of insect enemies may appear, each of which must be fought by the methods that experience has shown to work best in the particular case.

True insects are small creatures which in the adult stage have rather hard bodies divided into three portions, head, thorax (chest), and abdomen (belly). They have a single pair of antennae, or "feelers," normally three pairs of legs, and usually one or two pairs of wings. Among injurious forms of the insects are beetles, butterflies, moths, sawflies, ants, flies, grasshoppers, plant-bugs, thrips, and plant-lice.

Insects are classified into (1) chewing or biting forms which devour leaves and other portions of plants; and (2) sucking forms, which injure and destroy plants by draining their vital life juices. For the first class, arsenicals are the best remedies; for the second class, contact poisons are used.

Gardeners should learn to know the insects which are useful in destroying injurious insects. Prominent among these is the convergent ladybird. It destroys not only all forms of garden plant-lice, but the eggs of various insects. Other beneficial insects are wasps, ichneumon and chalcis flies (minute wasplike insects), ground beetles, soldier bugs, syrphus flies, tachina flies, and lacewing flies. Were it not for the natural enemies of cabbage worms, army worms, and similar pests, all vegetable crops probably would be failures.

The gardener who starts with a clean soil may do much to keep insects out and thus save the trouble and cost of applying sprays. Prevention is better than cure, especially in the home garden, which usually must be planted on the same ground year after year. Some of the worst garden troubles are brought in on the roots of plants and remain in the soil to attack the next crop. So in buying plants of any kind, one should be sure that they are free from insects. The roots should be clean and fibrous, not swollen or knotted.

In harvesting fruits and vegetables that are to be stored handle with the greatest care to avoid bruising. Certain insects such as the potato tuber moth gain access at points where the natural protective covering is broken.

Neatness, cleanliness, and order in the garden help in the fight against insects. As a general rule, the residue of the garden such as corn stalks, potato tops, etc., are to be turned under to improve the soil. Do this promptly, so that insects may not be harbored by the rubbish. Weeds in the garden and around it harbor insects, particularly if the weeds are related to the cultivated plants. Plant-lice, red spiders, and other insects invade the garden from neighboring weed borders. Cabbage pests live on wild mustard, shepherd's-purse, and related weeds. Just as soon as any crop is gathered, spade up the ground, bury the old remains deeply and plant something else. Except in the extreme north, rye or oats can be sown to give winter cover.

Farmers have found that by rotating their crops they reduce the injury from insects and also increase the fertility of the soil. This principle applies to the home garden, where, if possible, it would be better to make a new plan each year, placing each vegetable where some other grew the year before—peas on the old tomato ground, beets and carrots after the corn, etc.

REASONS FOR WAR GARDENS

The food situation is one of the deciding factors in winning this war. The value of war garden crops last year is estimated to be $350,000,000, and it is very probable that this amount will be doubled the present year.

War gardens have resulted in the use of waste lands; in the employment of persons who hitherto have been non-producers of foodstuffs; in the scientific instruction given the gardeners in cultivation, canning, drying and marketing their crops.

The gardens having been placed on a self-sustaining basis, there will practically be no cost. A fund is used for preparation work but is returned to the committee by the gardeners when they start the work another year.

In summing up the good accomplished in war garden work, may be mentioned the employment of time in useful labor that would be spent in idle amusement; the community spirit aroused by the democratic nature of the work; and the impetus given to the "back-to-the-soil" movement, by creating an interest in agriculture.

Cincinnati put on a big campaign and succeeded in planting a total of 228 acres of home gardens last year; but we hope to double that amount this year. More than $30,000 worth of produce was raised last year by our Soldiers of the Soil. This year we will aim to make it at least $100,000.

Even during the winter months we have not been idle but have been distributing literature and in other ways instructing the men, women and children of the city how to prepare the land and get their plots ready for the spring planting. Our committee has circulated thousands of leaflets through the schools and in other ways, calling the attention of the people to the importance of the work and to the necessity of getting ready for the spring drive into the garden trenches.

SALVAGE REPORT

Saturday, February 16, 1918, the High School takes charge of the collection of salvage for that day. They will cover North Glendale and west of Brand. Please, whenever convenient, have the clean smooth papers separate from the mussed or soiled ones as we can get a much higher price for them if kept clean.

There is reason to hope that we may get $20 a ton for our best papers. At that price they would be rather expensive fuel.

Monday Robert Frazee, Darrell Weed, Walter Hertzogg and Davis Chandler set forth just after school with a wheelbarrow and a hatchet to help solve the fuel problem and also earn money for their Junior Red Cross. They got permission to chop up some trimmings from fruit trees that had been piled in a lot to burn. They filled their barrow and stored the chopped wood in the Columbus Avenue school basement. This evening they will care for the rest.

That wood will be sold for the benefit of the Junior Red Cross.

Last Saturday we did not have machines enough to gather paper properly, there being only four.

Mrs. S. L. Gillan, Mrs. Louis Sipple, Mr. Hartman and Mrs. H. V. Brown drove for us.

In the workroom the work was managed by Miss Bertha Berry, Miss Lorraine Mitchell, Mrs. Delos Jones and Mr. Noland who had charge of the baler. In the afternoon Mrs. Brown took care of the sorting of metals and sorting and washing of bottles.

FREE WITH THEIR GOLD

While gold is now the standard of value throughout the world, in the days of old Greece gold and silver were commonly used in the decoration of buildings, when Phidias and the rest of the great sculptors swayed the art of that country.

"THAT WHICH IS ETERNAL"

Twenty years ago a little woman went with her husband and seven children to "take up" a ranch in Western Colorado. It was real pioneering—for they lived fifteen miles from the nearest neighbor. Their water had to be hauled five miles in barrels. There was very little money and a great deal of hard work, which perhaps, after all was a blessing, because it served to break the monotony of the desert life. This woman was well educated and had always enjoyed association with intellectual people. She missed it very much. She also missed good books and magazines. She longed for music, but there was not enough money for even a phonograph.

After twenty of these starved, monotonous years her two boys found good positions in the city three hundred miles away. They wrote her that they were going to send her money to buy some good clothes and a ticket to California, where they wanted her to spend the winter. Just at that time our country was plunged into war and the messages from her boys which had made her so happy was followed by another: "Shall we enlist?"

Her boys have gone; the dream of the winter in California has gone. She has taken up her life again in the desert—but the most wonderful sunsets in the world are seen on the desert!—Pauline Worth Hamlin of the Vigilantes.

LITTLE TOO BREEZY

The Missourian visiting in New York had run out of breath, then got a fresh start and said:

"Well, if we could have the same ocean at our city that you've got at your doors, New York wouldn't be one, two, three with us."

"You can have the ocean," remarked the New Yorker, drily.

"Have it? What do you mean?" demanded the westener.

"Well, if you can draw in your breath as hard as you can blow it out, pulling the ocean over to your town would be a small task."—Ex.

SANSKRIT

The Sanskrit is the language of the ancient Hindus. It is not now spoken and is understood only by the Brahmins and by scholars who have made a special study of it. It bears a striking likeness to the Greek, Latin, German, Celtic and Slavonic languages, and, though Sanskrit is not regarded as the parent of these dialects, it is looked upon as the language nearest to the original speech of the undivided Aryans.

HOPELESS INQUIRY

A stranger was questioning Helen, trying to get her to say her father's first name.

"What does your mother call your papa?"

"She calls him my daddy."

"Yes, but when she wants to speak to him what does she say?"

"She says, '659, please,' " was Helen's reply.

"I don't mean when she calls him at the office. When she tells him to get up in the morning what does she call him?"

"She says to be ready in about four minutes."—Youth's Companion.
